

COVID-19 Bulk Billed MBS Telehealth Services Allied Health Providers

Last updated: 31 March 2020

- From 13 March 2020 to 30 September 2020 (inclusive), new temporary MBS telehealth items have been made available to help reduce the risk of community transmission of COVID-19 and provide protection for patients and health care providers.
- The list of telehealth services has continued to expand since 13 March. This is the latest factsheet and provides details on all current telehealth items.
- The new items are available to Allied Health providers.
- A service may only be provided by telehealth where it is safe and clinically appropriate to do so.
- The new temporary MBS telehealth items must be bulk billed and are for non-admitted patients.

What are the changes?

As part of the Australian Government's response to COVID-19, thirty-two (32) new allied health items have been introduced to ensure continued access to essential Medicare rebated consultation services. As of 30 March 2020 these items have become general in nature and have no relation to diagnosing, treating or suspecting COVID-19.

The new items are:

- Group M18, sub-groups 11-22:
 - 2 new items for Allied Health Services for Chronic Disease Management
 - 2 new follow-up allied health items for patient's of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander descent;
 - 2 new allied health items for pregnancy support counselling;
 - 8 new allied health items for early intervention services for children with autism, pervasive developmental disorder or disability; and
 - 18 new allied health eating disorders services.

A list of the new telehealth items is provided later in this fact sheet.

Who is eligible?

The new temporary MBS telehealth items are available to providers of bulk billed telehealth services for a wide range of consultations. All Medicare eligible Australians can now receive these services.

All services provided using the new temporary MBS telehealth items must be bulk billed.

The services will be available until 30 September 2020. The continuing availability of these items will be reviewed prior to 30 September 2020.

What telehealth options are available?

Videoconference services are the preferred approach for substituting a face-to-face consultation. However, in response to the COVID-19 pandemic, providers will also be able to offer audio-only services via telephone if video is not available. There are separate items available for the audio-only services.

No specific equipment is required to provide Medicare-compliant telehealth services. Services can be provided through widely available video calling apps and software such as Zoom, Skype, FaceTime, Duo, GoToMeeting and others.

Free versions of these applications (i.e. non-commercial versions) may not meet applicable laws for security and privacy. Practitioners must ensure that their chosen telecommunications solution meets their clinical requirements and satisfies privacy laws.

Why are the changes being made?

The new temporary MBS telehealth items will allow people to access essential Medicare funded health services in their homes and reduce their risk of exposure to COVID-19 within the community.

What does this mean for providers?

The new temporary MBS telehealth items will allow providers to continue to deliver essential health care services to patients within their care.

Providers do not need to be in their regular practice to provide telehealth services. Providers should use their provider number for their primary location, and must provide safe services in accordance with normal professional standards.

The new temporary telehealth MBS items will substitute current face-to-face consultations that are available under the MBS. The new temporary MBS telehealth items will have similar requirements to normal timed consultation items.

The new temporary telehealth items must be bulk billed, meaning MBS rebates are paid to the provider.

For information regarding the Medicare assignment of benefit, please refer to the Provider Frequently Asked Questions document available on MBSOnline.

How will these changes affect patients?

The new temporary MBS telehealth items will require providers to bulk-bill, so there will be no additional charge to patients. Patients are required to consent to their service being bulk-billed.

Eligible patients should ask their service providers about their telehealth options, where clinically appropriate.

Who was consulted on the changes?

Targeted consultation with stakeholders has informed the new temporary MBS telehealth items. Due to the nature of the COVID-19 emergency, it was not reasonably possible to undertake normal, broad consultations prior to implementation.

How will the changes be monitored and reviewed?

The Department of Health will monitor the use of the new MBS items. Use of the items that does not seem to be in accordance with the relevant Medicare guidelines and legislation will be actioned appropriately.
